Thanks to M. Uli Kusterer

iMedia Browser Framework

Comic Life 2 makes use of some code contained with this Framework in order to utilize the UKKQueue noted above.

Copyright (c) 2005-2010 by Karelia Software et al.

iMedia Browser is based on code originally developed by Jason Terhorst, further developed for Sandvox by Greg Hulands, Dan Wood, and Terrence Talbot. The new architecture for version 2.0 was developed by Peter Baumgartner. Contributions have also been made by Matt Gough, Martin Wennerberg and others as indicated in source files.

The iMedia Browser Framework is licensed under the following terms:

Permission is hereby granted, free of charge, to any person obtaining a copy of this software and associated documentation files (the "Software"), to deal in all or substantial portions of the Software without restriction, including without limitation the rights to use, copy, modify, merge, publish, distribute, sublicense, and/or sell copies of the Software, and to permit persons to whom the Software is furnished to do so, subject to the following conditions:

Redistributions of source code must retain the original terms stated here, including this list of conditions, the disclaimer noted below, and the following copyright notice: Copyright (c) 2005-2009 by Karelia Software et al.

Redistributions in binary form must include, in an end-user-visible manner, e.g., About window, Acknowledgments window, or similar, either a) the original terms stated here, including this list of conditions, the disclaimer noted below, and the aforementioned copyright notice, or b) the aforementioned copyright notice and a link to karelia.com/imedia.

Neither the name of Karelia Software, nor Sandvox, nor the names of contributors to iMedia Browser may be used to endorse or promote products derived from the Software without prior and express written permission from Karelia Software or individual contributors, as appropriate.
